

Tishk
International University

Faculty of Applied Science
Medical Analysis Department

Course Descriptions

This course is designed to make the student familiar with Computer literature. Information Technology Concepts are Introduced with an emphasis on software and hardware utilization. Students will be exposed to a board range of computer Technology and IT topics including; Understanding Computer, Hardware, software, Computer and communication, Multimedia, web pages & Internet, Networking and the role of IT in public life. This course is divided into two sections: a lecture and lab.

IT 103 / INTRODUCTION TO INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY