

Tishk
International University

Faculty of Applied Science
Medical Analysis Department

Course
Descriptions

General Biology is a course designed to re-iterate and introduce the main components of biology that the student will encounter. It will provide a foundation to the to the core aspects of biology that students will utilize. It is critical for the ability of students in future courses to develop an understanding of more specific biological processes and terminologies with an encompassing comprehension and for their informed application.

MA 101 /General Biology I