

Tishk
International University

Faculty of Applied Science
Medical Analysis Department

Course
Descriptions

Research Project means a discrete scientific endeavor to answer a research question or a set of research questions. A Research Project must include a description of a defined protocol, clearly articulated goal(s), defined methods and outputs, and a defined start and end date. Moreover, it is an exploration of a specific topic within a field by an undergraduate student that makes an original contribution to the discipline.

MA 413 / RESEARCH PROJECT